ABOUT THE DECK

Welcome, beautiful souls! This deck was channeled and created to help support those who want to gain a deeper connection to the highest parts of themselves and the Universal energy that connects us all. The culture of New Orleans played a significant role in developing this deck because New Orleans is a place that inspires people to discover, accept, and fully express themselves. We live in a time when looking outside of ourselves for confirmation has become the norm. This oracle deck was created as a tool to bring back the comfort of going within to listen to—and grow—in our self-trust. It is meant to support the oneness and balance of intuition and intellectual energy. It does so by guiding you to tap into unconditional love and Divine energy to support the highest version of yourself. We all carry our guidance within, and we are all connected to the Divine source of energy. May this deck help you step into the light and the awakening of yourself, which is undoubtedly already beginning to unfold! May all that you've been seeking be found! And so it is!

INSTRUCTIONS

Pick 1, 3 or 5 cards.

It doesn't matter how you organize the spread—as long as you set a clear intention of gaining clarity around what you are asking.

It is often helpful to call upon one's angels or highest guides to tell you what you need to know.

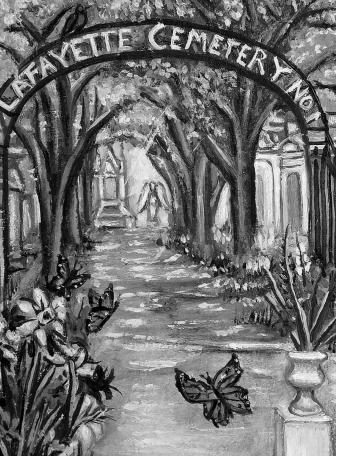

Happy connecting!

1. POWER Marie Laveau

Marie Laveau was the epitome of power and grace within the community of New Orleans. Not only was she known as an astute business woman, but she was also the go-to person for the spiritual remedies of everyday life. If you have drawn this card, you have been called to embrace all aspects of yourself and to rise to every occasion with confidence. You are so much more than the mundane daily tasks that often bog you down. New opportunities will help you explore the different ways you can express yourself and feel more fulfilled.

2. NEW BEGINNINGS Lafayette Cemetery

The word cemetery is usually associated with loss and gloom. However, in every ending there is also a new beginning. You have picked this card because, within your recent difficulties and endings, there is also a very bright new beginning that is more attuned to your highest good. It can be easy to get lost in counting the ways things have fallen apart, but the Universe has already begun piecing together a better experience for you, if you're ready to embrace it. Rather than focus on the obvious and negative, it is time to see how you have been released from what has been holding you back and to explore all of the new positive possibilities that have been created by this shift.

3. LET LOOSE Mardi Gras

Everyone knows that Mardi Gras is the celebration of all celebrations! If this card has shown up in your reading, that means it's time to let loose and forget all of the obligations that have been plaguing you, even if just for a few hours. Your ability to experience fulfillment and enjoyment in the moment has been compromised due to overthinking, managing life's obligations, and experiencing a lack of joy in your day-to-day life. This current imbalance has started to affect your generally positive outlook, and it is time for some revitalization! Cut loose even just a little, and see how much it positively affects your energy and overall outlook.

4. MUSIC HEALING

There is healing in and through music for you. Music can be one of the greatest healing modalities available to us. With or without words, the melodies and rhythms reach deep into your soul to create inspiration, excitement, healing and release. If you have chosen this card, the Universe is urging you to spend some time in a musical environment. Whether you create the music, dance to the music, or just listen to it, being in the musical energy will help attune your vibration to the highest good for the next steps of your life.
